ACCELERATED DEGREE PROGRAM APPLICATION CHECK LIST

1. Meet with your undergraduate faculty advisor and graduate program coordinator to discuss your eligibility for the ADP program.
 - If you are eligible, your faculty advisor(s) will prepare an ADP degree plan. The ADP Degree Plan must be signed by the undergraduate department chair and graduate program coordinator.
2. Complete the Accelerated Degree Program Application. You will need to upload your signed degree plan to the application.
3. Complete the NSU Graduate Admission Application. Make sure to select the Graduate Admission application.
4. The Graduate College will process the application and email your letter of admission to your NSU email. You will be admitted as a “provisional” graduate student. Once you complete your bachelor’s degree, your status will be updated to regular graduate student.
5. After you receive your letter of provisional admission, complete the Provisional Permit to Enroll form. This is an online form. You must complete a Provisional Permit to Enroll for EVERY graduate course in which you want to enroll. On the Graduate College website, in the left-hand tool bar, click on the tab for Graduate College Forms. This form will be located with the Graduate Student Forms.
 - As long as you have “provisional” graduate student status, this form needs to be completed every semester that you will enroll in graduate courses.
 - DO NOT ATTEMPT TO ENROLL until you receive notification from the Graduate College that your permit to enroll has been processed.
6. Enroll in your graduate courses!
